From the Leiden Gazette, dated Sept. 18.

Trent, Auguſt 30. It was for want of Ammunitions and Water that the Caſtle of Arco ſurrendred ſo ſoon to the French: For one Bomb ſet fire to their Magazine of Ammunitions, and another quite ſpoil'd their Ciſtern in which their Water was kept. The Garriſon conſiſting of 430 Men were made Priſoners of War, and are diſpos'd into ſeveral Places in the Milaneze. The Enemies have ſince poſſeſs'd themſelves of Toblino on this ſide the Sarca, and are at preſent encamp'd at Veſani. But we are in no fear of their advancing hither, becauſe the Adige is well guarded, and the Generals Vaubonne and Solari are at hand with their Troops to oppoſe their paſſage. We flatter our ſelves the Duke of Vendome will be oblig'd to return back, ſeeing that the Elector of Bavaria is driven out of all Tyrol, that great Succours are marching this way from the Puſterhall, and that the Nobility and the Peaſants, who are drawn together in great Numbers, are reſolutely determin'd to make the beſt defence they are able.

From the Amſterdam Gazette, dated Sept. 17.

Milan, Auguſt 27. Several Standards of the Imperialiſts taken in Berſello are brought hither, being ſent with a Guard of 30 Men commanded by an Officer of the Prince of Vaudemont's Guards: They are hung up in our Caſtle. The Imperialiſts fortifie Revere, and the French entrench themſelves along the Secchia: There has no Action paſs'd between the two Armies. The Magiſtrates of this City have tranſmitted a Memorial to the King of Spain, repreſenting their Inability to furniſh the Royal Army with Proviſions, as has been demanded of them.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated Sept. 18.

Cologne, Sept. 11. We are inform'd that they continue to forward with utmoſt diligence the Preparations made at Duſſeldorp for the Reception of the Archduke of Auſtria; that a new Opera is getting ready to divert him during the ſhort time he is like to ſtay there; and that the Magnificent Yacht which is fitting up to carry his Highneſs to Holland is as good as finiſh'd. They write from the Moſelle, that ſome days ago a new Governour arriv'd at Luxemburg, his moſt Chriſtian Majeſty not thinking fit to entruſt the Count d'Autol any longer with the Command of that Place, tho' he has continued him in the general Government of the Province.

They write from Paris of the 7th of this Month, that 2 or 3 days before the Diamonds found on board the Dutch Men of War taken ſome time ſince by Monſieur de Coetlogon on the Coaſt of Portugal, were were disposd of by publick Sale, and yielded a considerable Sum of Money.

Deale, Sept. 15. To day the Postillion and another Privateer of Dover, brought in 4 French Prizes laden with Salt, Wine and Brandy, their Burthen together about 1500 Tuns.

London, Sept. 16. To day Sir Richard Hoar was declar'd Alderman of Breadstreet Ward, in the Room of Sir Edward Clarke deceas'd.

This Afternoon arriv'd a Mail from Lisbon; which, we are inform'd, brings Advice that Monsieur de Chateauneuf, the French Ambassador to the Court of Portugal, being arriv'd at Lisbon, had demanded Audience of the King, who thought fit to refuse it him. And that Sir Cloudsly Shovel has been seen off Tangier, but what day we cannot yet learn.
